

GLOBAL HEALTH DAY 2018

Global health challenges

- Health consequences of climate and environmental change
- A new generation living with HIV infection

Time: Wednesday 24 October 2018

Location: KA12, Kunnskapsenteret, NTNU/St. Olavs Hospital, Trondheim

08.00 Registration. Coffee/tea

08.30 Musical entertainment

08.35 Welcome by Björn Gustafsson, Dean, Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences, NTNU and Stig Slørdahl, CHO Mid-Norway Health Authority

Health consequences of climate and environmental change (Chair: Elisabeth Darj)

08.45 Film: Environmental challenges – access clean water? (tbc)

09.00 Climate change and human health; focus on vector migration and infectious diseases.
Prof. Arja Rautio, University of Oulu, Finland

09.30 Consequences for reproductive health in the Arctic. A circumpolar program.
Prof. Jon Øyvind Odland, Department of Public Health and Nursing, NTNU, Norway

10.00 Coffee/tea break

10.15 Climatic changes and the increase of vector diseases in Nicaragua,
Ivania Garth Sambola, Nurse and MSc, Institute of Traditional Medicine and community development, Nicaragua

10.40 The planetary health imperative to eradicate nuclear weapons
Prof. Tilman A. Ruff, International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War (IPPNW) and initiating ICAN, University of Melbourne, Australia

11.10 Poster presentations x 2

Poster session and Lunch

11.30 Poster walk in the hall – competition of “best poster” – vote electronically via Mentimeter

12.00 Lunch

12.30 Poster walk

A new generation living with HIV infection

(Chair: Jon Øyvind Odland)

13.00 Musical entertainment

13.10 To live with HIV in Norway today

Leif-Ove Hansen, Nurse and living with HiV, Chairman of board HivNorge, Norway

13.40 HIV infection – how inflammation matters

Post doc Hany Zekaria Meås, Centre of Molecular Inflammation Research (CEMIR), NTNU, Norway

14.00 Prevention of mother-to-child transmission of HIV

Prof. Thorkild Tylleskär, University of Bergen, Norway

14.20 Coffee/tea break

14.45 Adolescent health in Africa – Children who grow up with HIV

Prof. Rashida Ferrand, University of Zimbabwe Medical School and London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, Zimbabwe

15.15 Understanding HIV disability and on mainstreaming HIV in physiotherapy education

Ass Prof. Hellen Myezwa, University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa

15.45 Current issues:

POSTER AWARD!

15.55 Closing remarks by Elisabeth Darj

16.00 Pizza & refreshments in KS11